

Executive Spends Week Working in Fund Drive

James E. Bathker, accountant with Shell Chemical Co. of Torrance, recently spent a week working for United Crusade in the Harbor area, which includes San Pedro, Torrance, Lomita, Gardena, Carson, Palos Verdes, Rolling Hills, Harbor City, and Wilmington.

JAMES E. BATHKER On Crusade

He was on loan from his company to act as a campaign specialist for the fund-raising organization, which is the largest of its kind in the Los Angeles area.

Bathker, who lives in Burbank, is a graduate of Loyola University. He attended UCLA and is now doing graduate work at USC.

HAVING served as an in-plant AID (Associated In-Group Donors) representative, Bathker is well aware of the responsibility of each citizen to support agencies which serve both those who can and those who cannot pay for services.

"We all have an obligation to help make our community a better place in which to live," he said. "United Crusade is one way we can accomplish this."

Duties of a United Crusade campaign specialist include contacting local business and industrial firms to collect corporate gifts and set up employe campaigns. These campaigns consist of educational films and talks explaining how United Crusade funds are allocated to 256 agencies and the role of the "Fair Share" plan is making it possible.

"FAIR SHARE" means an hour's pay each month for employes. For executives, the scale ranges from 1 per cent to 3 per cent or more as the salaries increase from $12,000 to $50,000 and more.

Funds raised in employe campaigns, residential door-to-door campaigns, and other United Way agencies are allocated to 244 United Way agencies and 12 American Red Cross chapters in the Los Angeles area.

Near Airport

Subterminal Suggested For Commuter Traffic

Construction of an airline subterminal near International Airport to relieve congested airport parking lots and streets has been suggested by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn.

Hahn said a subterminal could eliminate the need for airline passengers to bring their cars into the airport area.

It would principally serve daily air commuters to such locations as San Francisco, San Diego, and Sacramento.

Hahn is requesting airlines carrying a large commuter traffic to consider construction of such a terminal.

Carson

(Continued from Page 1) of the letter and defended his position by presenting similar endorsements by several other public officials on reproduced official stationery. He asked City Attorney Glenn Watson for an opinion as to the legality of his action. Watson commented it was not illegal, but more a matter of policy to be determined by the council.

Councilman Yamamoto attempted to have a letter of explanation, which was read at the meeting, mailed to the citizens of Carson at city expense. His motion died for lack of a second.

AFTER YAMAMOTO'S motion was stopped, Mayor Marbutt was emphatic in his request that "Resolution No. 159 be given complete coverage by all news media available to all residents of the city of Carson who so request them so that its intent can be clarified."

Mayor Marbutt further commented "It is the desire of the city of Carson that is position on the subject of the endorsement of candidates for partisan political office by city councilmen be made quite clear."

"The city of Carson wishes to emphasize that individual city councilmen acting as private citizens can make no endorsements on behalf of the city. It has come to the attention of the city of Carson that a letter appearing to be on the letterhead of the city of Carson has been distributed to the residents of this city supporting one of the candidates for political office. This does not reflect any action taken by the city council nor any endorsement by the city of Carson."
